DAVID QUANTRILL

David was born in Suffolk in 1938, where he still lives and works. David describes himself as a natural artist. He gained his art education at Lowestoft College of Art.

Painting in all media, David's subject matter gives way to feelings, atmospheres and textural surfaces.

More recently his painting has entered a new phase, having moved on from his more traditional figurative style. Working mainly in acrylic and mixed media, his new work displays David's exploration of abstract expressionism.

David has work held in public and private collections in the UK, Europe and America.
